Dear Mr Cornelius

I have been an owner of a courier company for over two years. All of my vehicles are diesels, which of course is the only way to go being in the courier business. Business is good, but with the cost of diesel increasing, along with Road user Charges, I couldn't help but look at ways of saving on fuel.

An ad in a truck magazine for Fuelstar made me inquire and now I have been using them in my fleet for over a year, including some personal vehicles.

I can confirm that the vans are averaging an extra 60kms per tank of diesel under load and with some heavy demands around town. At a savings of 10%, multiply this by 15 vehicles, who can say they don't want to see this kind of savings for such a reasonable price. With an annual fuel bill around $240,000, I am saving $24,000 per annum for an outlay of $5,000. With a minimum life of 10 years (if I replace a vehicle, the Fuelstar can be moved to the new vehicle), the economics are undeniably attractive.

I have such confidence in the abilities of fuelstar, I will continue to use them, have recommended and will continue to recommend to people I meet.

Well done fuelstar!!
